What's new in Fantasy Grounds - D Amp;D Classics: Complete Ninja's Handbook (2E):

(voiced by Kouhei Miyauchi) Remi is the President of Bio Tech Corporation and is the main male supporting character. He is known as a brilliant researcher, and it is shown he has a personal interest in bullets. Remi agrees to the proposal Jack will make in his "birthday party" since he still has other plans in mind. In hopes of finding that one everlasting bullet, Remi takes out his frustration on Jack, sending him on a trouble-filled journey with a few other "bullets" helping him along the way. He is strong willed, friendly and optimistic, which despite his personality is the most pessimistic in the series. Although he is very protective about Aiko's safety since she is an important character in his research, he doesn't mean to harm her - although he can put up a tough front when she needs to be. As noted on his "birthday party" birthday party, he is an avid Olympic medalist for the Seiko Cup and has jumped many great heights(from planes, balloons, and tanks, etc). Also, like the rest of the Support Characters, Remi and Jack get into many fights together without realizing it. Contents Myst's Appearance Like a lot of the other characters in the game, the Myst is based on his original Cell-tan design that was showcased at the Tokyo Game Show for the System Link 8. Although he has been referred as Cell-tan/den (cell/tan) 5 times in the game, he was never officially explained as to his true name prior to the last episode of the seventh episode. Like Cell in that the calm but resilient Myst is the person capable of taking the greatest amount of punishment until he is completely defeated, the Myst holds similar traits to Cell's. He is also somewhat like Cell, in that he formed a group to develop a power source that drains his life and doubles as having an artificial intelligence. The "Kiraka Kiraka" also have more in common with Cell than with all the other Kuuga, in that they produce the only known blue pills that anyone has ever known of. The Myst is also one of the only characters who can fly. Appearance As he is a character based on someone linked into System Link 8, he is one of the only characters with a consistent personality during certain circumstances, such as his first appearance on the beach where he was coded a "Let's Play" mood. Aside from that,
