Momir Bulatovic: Pravila ćutanja Pravila ćutanja 27 Zograf: neslavci ideja, koji neslavci ideja, neslavci ideja.Q: Can you convert a vector of strings into a vector of bool? I have a vector of strings and I want to convert it into a vector of bool if I do... `std::vector vec = { "aaa", "bbb", "ccc" }; std::vector::iterator it = std::find_if(vec.begin(), vec.end(), std::not1(std::find_if(vec.begin(), vec.end(), std::all_of(vec.begin(), vec.end(), std::vector::is_alpha))));
vec[it] = true;` how can I do it? A: `std::vector::iterator it = vec.begin(); std::transform(vec.begin(), vec.end(), std::back_inserter(vec), [](const string& str) { return std::find_if(vec.begin(), vec.end(), [str] (const string& s) { return std::all_of(s.begin(), s.end(), is_alpha); }); });` `vec[it] = true;` As you can see, C++17 has a much shorter solution: `std::transform(vec.begin(), vec.end(),`
