Download HD Videos.The University of Wisconsin-Madison is planning for its largest on-campus camping trip in more than 20 years. Campus officials sent out a request for proposals Friday seeking bids to bring 18,000 students to the school over the August break. Campus spokesman John Lucas said the last such event was the 30,000-person Varsity Day in August 2000. Campus leaders are looking to create a "destination campus" in the lead-up to the Aug. 31 start of classes, partly to help relieve stress amid the coronavirus pandemic. Campus officials are urging students to get a share of Madison businesses in a bid to maintain local jobs. Wisconsin Gov. Tony Evers said Friday that the state will give the campus $100 million to help. The request for proposals is open to the first 175 universities with the largest enrollment in Wisconsin.> 79a2804d6b
